Editors Report

Just a reminder this newsletter that we are back to sailing on Saturday. Look for reports and some results on National Titles, next week.

Congratulations to all those who have competed in National Titles and continuing good sailing to those are still competing and those who have yet to start their titles. Congratulations to Black Sheep on their Sydney to Hobart Race, they certainly started out well, conquering the heavy weather during the first night and finished in good standing considering the becalmed weather that followed. Well done.

Cheers and a Happy New Year to Everyone
Gail
